

The Future of the Great Lakes

Jim Hurley, director of the University of Wisconsin Aquatic Sciences Center (UW Sea Grant and UW Water Resources Institutes), discusses the latest research on aquatic invasive species, shipwrecks, water quality and coastal storms.

Tuesday, September 25 | 7 p.m.

Discovery Building Town Center
330 North Orchard Street

Part of a monthly series on thought-provoking public issues.

Registration is requested at discovery.wisc.edu/crossroads