

Darwin Day 2011

University of Wisconsin Madison

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2011

9:00am - noon Workshop for Wisconsin Science Teachers

Led by the UW Anthropology Department and Kristin Jenkins of NESCent.

1:30 - 4:30pm Scientific Outreach Symposium

Featuring speakers from UW-Madison Departments of Botany, Zoology, Genetics, and Philosophy, with discussion to follow.

7:00 - 10:00pm Creation: The True Story of Charles Darwin

Film showing, to be followed by discussion with UW History of Science professors Lynn Nyhart and Ron Numbers.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2011

6:30 - 7:00pm Welcome reception in Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery Town Hall

7:00 pm

Keynote lecture: Ecology and behavior of savanna chimpanzees at Fongoli, Senegal

Jill Pruetz, Associate Professor of Anthropology, Iowa State University

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2011

10am-3:30pm Family-Friendly Science Stations - Explore the Tree of Life!

Learn about evolutionary science and how it affects the entire Tree of Life, at Exploration Stations staffed by UW-Madison students, faculty, and staff. Receive a prize for visiting all the branches of the Tree of Life!

10:30 - 11:30am Neanderthal genomes: Meet your inner caveman

John Hawks, Associate Professor of Anthropology, UW-Madison

12:30 - 1:30pm Evolution of the human birth process

Karen Rosenberg, Professor of Anthropology, University of Delaware

12:30 - 1:30pm Wrap-up Panel Discussion with all speakers

evolution.wisc.edu

All events will be held in the Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery, except for the showing of Creation, which will be held in the Wisconsin Union Theater.

For more information, please contact Emily Sessa at essessa@wisc.edu or 265-5473.

Darwin Day is free and open to the public!

Know Thyself: Humans & Evolution